

Qualitative Research in Health (Elective)

Credit Value: 10

Course Organiser: Professor Sarah Cunningham Burley / Dr Marilyn Kendall

Course Instructor(s): Professor Sarah Cunningham Burley / Dr Marilyn Kendall

Time: Semester 2 Weeks 5-11
Wednesday 11:10-13:00

Short course description: This course is an in-depth examination of qualitative approaches, methods and issues looking specifically at their application in health related research. It includes narrative research, qualitative longitudinal and multi-perspective research, researching sensitive issues. online researching and different analytical approaches. The emphasis will be on advanced knowledge and practice..

Course prerequisites: Introduction to Qualitative Research, or equivalent

Learning objectives:

- To provide students with an in-depth understanding of the application of qualitative research methods in the investigation of health related issues.
- To develop the student's awareness of different approaches to conducting qualitative research.
- To examine both sustained and novel approaches in the field.

Assessment: Written assignment (75%) and learning log (25%).